EARTHSCAPES

Watercolors & Oils by Jill Plaisted

NICHOLASVILLE, KY, JUNE 30, 2005: Jill Plaisted, of Lexington, KY will open her current exhibit of watercolors and oils at the newly opened art gallery, The Art Depository, in downtown Nicholasville, KY on July 1, 2005. It will remain on display through August 6, 2005. An artist's reception will be held on July 15, 2005 from 4 pm until 8 pm.

Earthscapes reflects the strength, beauty and diversity of Mother Earth as she struggles daily to maintain her balance. Our planet has evolved over millenniums from primitive volcanic origins to its current equilibrium, but the fragile balance between nature and humanity is easily upset. Her stability is endangered by daily attacks from global warming, air and water pollution. Earthscapes is a reflection of the Earth's ever present beauty.

A past president of the Lexington Art League, Ms. Plaisted is active in the Lexington art scene. She frequently teaches workshops and classes in the region and is currently an art instructor for the University of Kentucky Donovan Program.

Ms. Plaisted has had two previous solo shows in addition to being included in many group exhibits. Her works can be found in collections both in the United States and England. To see more of her work, visit her website at www.jillplaisted.com

The Art Depository is currently open Thursday & Friday from 10 am – 7 pm, and Saturday from 10 am – 4 pm. Appointments can be made to view the gallery at other times by calling 859-885-0106 or 859-536-5405.
